Reception to Confederate Veterans.

Mrs. R. C. Webb, president of the R. E. Lee Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, gave a delightful reception to the members of Camp Stephen D. Lee, United Confederate Veterans, on New Year's afternoon. Quite a number of the veterans were present, and the occasion was thoroughly en-joyed by all. Mrs. Webb's home was draped in red and white bunting, and palms and ferns lent an additional charm to the scene. Mrs. S. Bleckley welcomed the veterans in an appro-priate address. Her words were hearty and sincere and the address were hearty priate address. Her words were hearty and sincere, and the address was much appreciated by the old soldiers.

Col. J. N. Brown and Hon. G. F. Tolly responded on behalf of the vetorans, and made happy little speeches. After this an entertaining program was carried out. It consisted of vocal selections by Mrs. Fred B. Maxwell, Miss Lucy Barton, Mrs. William Laughlin and Mrs. J. R. Vandiver, and an instrumental selection by Miss Bessie Bee. The guests were then taken into Bee. The guests were then taken into the dining room where they were ser-ved with teiteshments. Each vector, was given a dainty sonvenir consisting of a spray of laurel tied with Confed-

The ushers were wis Sitton and Phillip Sitton.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was tendered the bride and groom at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Sitton. Delightful refreshments were served and the evening passed very happily.
The groom is a native of Newberry County, but has lived at Autun for a number of years, where he is manager of the Pendleton Manufacturing Company, of which Col. Aug. J. Sitton is proprietor. He is a graduate of Clemson and has achieved a wide and enviable reputation as a cotton mill man and an electrical engineer.

The bride is a daughter of J. J. Sitston, the president of the Pendleton Cotton Mill, now in process of construction, and one of the staunchest and best known business men in Anderson County. She is deservedly popular throughout the State both for her attractiveness and her accomplishments.

Married in Greenville.

The Greenville Herald, of December 26th, 1963, contains the following account of the marriage of a young lady who formerly lived in this County and who is a daughter of the late D. D. Control.

Gentry:
Last Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Martha J. Gentry, on Choice

Avenue, a beautiful home wedding occurred which united in marimony Willis Vincent Austin and Miss Carrie Elizabeth Gentry.

The parlor and reception rooms were beautifully decorated in white and green, and just before the appointed hour were filled with invited grees.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the beautiful strains of Mendelsohn's wedding march played by Misa Leila Cowsett hushed the guests and turned all eyes expectant toward the door. First en-tered Rev. W. P. Holland, the officiating minister and uncle of the bride; then followed the maid of honor, Miss Eva Gentry, sister of the bride, and the best man, W. F. Griffin; then came the lovely bride on the arm of the handsome groom. The ceremony was beautiful and impressive.

The bride was daintily gowned in white organdy and carried an elegant bouquet of white carnations and maid en hair fetns. The maid of honor wore a handsome dress of pea green crepe de chine.

After the ceremony delicious cake and fruit punch, were served by four pretty young maidens in white, wearing pea-green ribbons.

Mr. Austin holds the important position of register mesne conveyance of Greenville County and is one of the most popular officials the County has ever had. He is a young man well known throughout the Courty, and one who has numerous friends all over the State, all of whom wish him great success and happiness in his new married life.

Mrs. Austin is a daughter of Mrs. Martha J. Gentry, formerly of Ander-son County, but who has been living in Greenville for the past four years. For several months she has been acting as assistant to Mr. Austin in his efficial duties and in connection with the duties of the office has made many friends by her amiable manner. She is an exceptionally intelligent young woman and one of strong Chris-tian character. Her many friends wish berall happiness in life, and it will be a source of great pleasure to them to learn that she is to make her home in Greenville.

Martin-Griffin Marriage.

On Tuesday afternoon, December 29, 1903, at 3:30 o'clock, at the country home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Grace Martin, near Hopewell, a large circle Martin, near Hopewell, a large circle of friends and relatives gathered to celebrate the nuptial feativities of Miss Carrie Gertrude Martin, of Anderson County, and Mr. John R. C. Griffin, of Easley, Pickens County.

The attendants were Claude W. Martin, nephew of the bride, with Miss Carrie Mattison, Bailey N. Wyatt with Miss Janie Griffin, sister of the groom, and Ernest Hamilton with Miss Cleo Moseley.

Rev. D. Weston Hiott, assisted by Rev. Henry C. Martin, officiated. The bride was beautifully attired in match-less gown of white organdy, trimmed with eatin ribbon and carried a lovely bouquet of maiden hair ferns and white hyacinths. The bridesmaids were handsomely gowned in white or-gandies, except Miss Moseley, who was attired in a charming gown of Persian lawn. The bridesmaids also carried bonquets of maiden hair ferns and daffodils.

The beautifully decorated parlor, the lowered shades, the soft dim light of the burning candles and the soulful melody of the wedding march by Pro-Henry Milford, all combined to me the scene doubly solemn and impre-

The Street Paving.

The street paving was completed last week, and the work was accepted by the Mayor and Council on Saturday. The work was thoroughly inspected by the street committee and Engineer Sheffield, who made the plans, and it was the opinion of all that the city had gotten a fine and durable piece of work. The total cost was $20,200.45. The issue of bonds in the summer for the purpose of street improvements the purpose of street improvements was for $25,000, and there is still a small balance on hand for similar work. The contract called for the completion of the work by the 15th of November, but the contractors met with many unavoidable delays in getting their majorial and the Courselling their majorial and the Courselling ting their material, and the Council excused them from the payment of the forfeiture provided for in the agree-
